During the 2-day Patrol Drug Interdiction course, participants will take an in-depth look at current drug trends and discuss drug markets that affect their localities.

The course is filled with instruction and open discussion on case law and its proper application. Course content also covers marijuana indoor and outdoor grow operations and basic and advanced interdiction techniques related to: highways; calls for service; hotels and motels; neighborhoods; airports; bus stations, etc.

Participants will explore the application of geo-temporal policing and specific community-based problem solving operations designed to impact drug-markets instead of drug traffickers. Finally, participants will review proper court preparation and discuss what it takes to become an expert witness in court.

This course is ideal for patrol officers, K-9 officers, street crimes units, and narcotics detectives.

It is restricted to sworn law enforcement personnel only.
